

COUNTRY MUSIC STAR
RILEY GREEN
EXTENDS DAMN COUNTRY MUSIC TOUR

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 7 | CHAIFETZ ARENA

FIVE-TIME NOMINEE AT UPCOMING 60TH ACM AWARDS

Today, multi-platinum, multi-award-winning singer-songwriter Riley Green announces the addition of eight new dates to his highly successful Damn Country Music Tour. Following a string of sold-out headlining shows across Canada earlier this year, Green will officially kick off the U.S. leg of the tour, produced by Live Nation, on May 1st in Athens, GA.

Green's new dates include a stop at Chaifetz Arena in St. Louis, MO, on Friday, November 7, 2025.

Known for his rugged charm and down-to-earth stage presence, the newly added dates further underscore the overwhelming demand and continued momentum behind Green's 2024 tour, as he brings his signature sound and chart-topping hits to fans across North America. Support for these dates feature Jamey Johnson, Drake White, and Hannah McFarland.

In the midst of a whirlwind year, the country force recently received five nominations at this year's ACM Awards for the hit duet, "you look like you love me," with Ella Langley. Additionally, his third studio album, Don't Mind If I Do, was released last Fall to widespread acclaim. Featured on the record, solo penned songs, "Worst Way," "Jesus Saves," and the title track, "Don't Mind If I Do (feat. Ella Langley)," have reached impressive new heights with recent Platinum and Gold certifications.

Produced by Live Nation, pre-sale tickets and VIP packages for Riley Green fans are available on April 29th at 10am local time and general on-sale begins on May 2nd at 10am local time. About Riley Green:

CMA and ACM award winner, Riley Green has been compelling Country music fans to raise a drink, shed a tear, and, above all, celebrate where they are from, since first releasing his self-titled EP in 2018 with Big Machine Label Group. His songs like the No. 1 2X-PLATINUM hit “There Was This Girl,” the 3X-PLATINUM-certified heart-tugger “I Wish Grandpas Never Died” (which he performed live at the 55th ACM Awards), and his chart-topping collab with Thomas Rhett, “Half of Me,” have made Riley synonymous with what Country music does best: making listeners feel something with his no-gimmick, relatable writing and classic feel.

An avid sports fan, former athlete (Jacksonville State University quarterback) and outdoorsman, Riley is riding a wave of success after being named the Academy of Country Music’s 2020 New Male Artist of the Year, a former MusicRow Breakout Artist of the Year, a CMT “Listen Up Artist,” and one of CRS’s 2020 New Faces. In 2023 Green served as direct support for Morgan Wallen and Luke Combs, playing to an average of 65,000 fans each night. Recently Green has wrapped his own headlining Ain’t My Last Rodeo

Tour, bringing out Tracy Lawrence and Ella Langley with him. Combs joined Riley on his third No. 1 single “Different ‘Round Here \(Ft. Luke Combs\),” the title track to Riley’s 2019 debut album that he re-recorded with Combs after seeing how fans connected to it.

The singer-songwriter’s third studio album, Don’t Mind If I Do, produced by Dann Huff, arrived on his birthday, October 18 with more of the signature Riley Green fans have come to know and love from the good ol’ boy who still lives in his hometown of Jacksonville, AL. Currently on an incredible hot streak, Green’s well-earned confidence in his work shines through across the 18-track set with five of the tracks being solely written including standouts “Jesus Saves,” “Worst Way” and the title track—which finds Green reuniting with his “you look like you love me” duet partner and recent tourmate Ella Langley.
